PARDON FOR PRISONERS.

(Our Own Correspondent.)

Shanghai, Mar. 12, 9.45 a.m.

The Government has pardoned all prisoners except murderers and robbers.

Over-due land taxes have been remitted. The old laws are to apply except where they are contrary to republicanism.

SHANGHAI IN DANGER.

An outbreak in Shanghai has been narrowly averted by the payment of 5,000 troops.

VIGOROUS ACTION.

London, March 11, 3.55 a.m.

The Tientsin correspondent of the "Daily Mail" states that the Inniskillings were to march out at dawn to apprehend all Chinese soldiers within the limits of the concessions. They have orders to shoot resistors.—(Reuter).

YUAN'S AIM.

London, March 11, 2.10 p.m.

A message from Peking states that Yuan Shih-kai, in an inaugural speech, says it shall be his endeavour faithfully to develop the Republic, and increase the welfare of the country. It will be his aim to cement all the five races into one strong nation, and he will retire when the National Assembly appoint a permanent President.—(Reuter).

TROOPS AND DISCIPLINE.

Shanghai, March 12.

President Yuan Shih-kai has issued an address to the troops impressing on them the necessity of maintaining discipline. He has asked the Governors-General of the various provinces to remain at their posts.

COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF ILL.

Chu Shih-ching, commander-in-chief of the President's body-guard is seriously ill.

THE CAPITAL QUESTION.

The Chinese residents in America have cabled their strong opposition to any proposal to make Peking the capital under the Republican Government.

FIRST REPUBLICAN

COAL CRISIS.

THE JOINT CONFERENCE.

[Service to the "Telegraph."]

Bombay, Mar. 12, 7.15 a.m.

The Miners' Federation has unanimously decided to accept Mr. Asquith's invitation to meet the owners.

POSITION IN GERMANY.

Bombay, Mar. 12, 7.15 a.m.

Reuter's correspondent at Essen in Prussia states that there are indications of the strike falling. The average percentage of strikers is thirty-four and many of the mines have their full strength.

LABOUR IN FRANCE.

The French miners have struck for a day to call the Government's attention to their grievances.

IDLE SHIPPING.

London, Mar. 11, 5.40 p.m.

Shipping everywhere is becoming more and more idle and vessels to the extent of 200,000 tons are held up on the Tyne. Every advantage is being taken to get the vessels into proper trim. The sailings of the trans-Atlantic liners, St. Paul and Oceanic from Southampton have been cancelled.

AFFECTING THE COLONIES.

The big industrial concerns are anxiously awaiting the outcome of to-night's meetings and if the decisions are unfavourable the lines to the colonies, hitherto unaffected, beyond exercising the severest economy, will be compelled to consider the limiting of the regular services.

REGULATIONS SUSPENDED.

London, Mar. 11, 6.35 p.m.

The police have authorised the trams carrying fifteen persons in excess of the legal number, and the buses five.

INSISTENT DEMANDS.

Bombay, Mar. 11, 2.10 p.m.

Peace depends upon the meeting of the Miners' Federation in London to-night, to discuss the Government's invitation for a round-table conference and the minimum wage. In the meantime demands for drastic Government action are becoming more insistent, and this will undoubtedly be taken immediately if the conference to-morrow is fruitless.

It is now certain that two hundred thousand German miners will strike to-day, but it is expected that the stoppage of traffic will be short-lived.

FACED WITH BANKRUPTCY.

It is calculated that three million pounds sterling in wages have been already lost outside the mining industry. The Trade Unions are obliged to pay increasingly large sums to members out of work. Some of them are faced with bankruptcy. Indications of forthcoming pressure by the Trade Unions are beginning to be felt. According to the "Standard" the men's leaders consider the unbending attitude with regard to the fixed minimum schedule as no longer tenable.—(Reuter).

THE SOUTH POLE.

AMUNDSEN'S STORY.

[Service to the "Telegraph."]

London, March 11, 4.50 p.m.

The "Daily Chronicle" publishes an interesting interview with Captain Amundsen at Hobart, giving supplementary details of the dash for the Pole. The expedition first travelled fifteen miles in five hours, and spent two hours eating. They rested the remaining seven-teen hours. This resting was found too long, so they marched the same distance in six hours, fed two, and slept six. They breakfasted, and started anew. An average of twenty miles was attained daily during the latter part of the journey. Going towards the Pole, a height of 16,000 feet above sea-level was sometimes reached, and the altitude at the Pole itself was 10,500 feet. The expedition had full rations both ways, and at first some of the dogs were eaten. The journey towards the Pole proved delicious, and it was anything but a hardship to eat dog-flesh. A few of the dogs strayed and raided some of the reserve depots, and eleven survived the whole journey.

REASONS FOR SUCCESS.

Captain Amundsen said the Pole was situated on a vast level plain of snow, hence it was impossible to erect a permanent cairn of stones. The weather was still calm, and he thought that was the prevalent condition. He attributed his success to his splendid comrades, the employment of skis, and the magnificent dogs. When the members of the expedition returned to the ship, they were almost fat. They had never washed or shaved the whole time. One man had a tooth drawn.—(Reuter).

WHAT OF SCOTT?

Reuter's correspondent at Hobart telegraphs that Captain Amundsen, interviewed, thought it very possible that Captain Scott had also reached the Pole. He hoped he had done so. He hibernated nearer the Pole than Captain Scott. King George has telegraphed his congratulations to Captain Amundsen.—(Reuter).

CANTON NEWS.

["Telegraph" Correspondent.]

Canton, March 11.

A telegram addressed to the Canton Governor-General, the Provisional Council, the Chamber of Commerce and the Press Society, from Swatow merchants resident in Hongkong, states that revolutionary troops under Commander Lam are pressing hard on Chin-chow and as a result business is at a standstill. It is said that the various consuls have called for protection and already seven war-craft have arrived at Swatow.

According to this message the American Consul is said to have despatched a representative to enquire whether the Chinese authorities will be able to afford any protection to foreigners in case of trouble.

Chun Ju-ping, a Hongkong merchant, has addressed a circular telegram to various societies in Canton, attributing the outbreak in Peking to the strained financial state of the country. He draws attention to the high salaries paid to officials and the immense cost of running some of the departments, and suggests a wholesale retrenchment if Canton wishes to avoid the fate of Peking.

ADMIRAL EVANS AND HIS V-LET.

The late Admiral Evans, "Fighting Bob," as he was familiarly known, was the hero of many stories, and a Paris contemporary adds to the number. In his early days the Admiral had a much valued valet, a Japanese. His accomplishments were manifold, and he excelled as maitre d'hotel. He had no equal in the way he announced, "Dinner is ready, sir." One day the Japanese valet gave the Admiral notice to leave, saying he wished to go home. "Fighting Bob" was sorry to lose his servant, and filled his place with a Hindoo, and forgot all about the Japanese. Years later the Admiral found himself at Marseilles, and as there was a Japanese warship in port he paid a visit to the vessel. He was received by the captain, and after the inspection accepted hospitality in the cabin. The Japanese commander threw off his cap, and picking a towel placed it on his arm and said, in the old familiar tones, "Dinner is ready, sir." "Kato!" was the astonished Admiral's reply, for the commander was the quondam valet.

NAVAL AND MILITARY NEWS.

The transfer of the 1st Battalion Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers from Tientsin to India has been postponed till next trooping season, or until the internal affairs of China will permit of the movement being carried out. This is a decided hardship on the families of the married non-commissioned officers and men, these having already arrived at Alhaur, India.

Lieutenant G. V. Stewart, Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers, has been seconded for service with the Egyptian Army.

The armoured cruiser Monmouth, Captain Laurence E. Power, will shortly complete her commission with the China Squadron, and orders have been issued by the Admiralty for her being recommissioned for further service with the squadron. To that end a new crew will be despatched from England to Colombo for the recommissioning. The crew will leave Devonport in the cruiser Europa about March 5 for Colombo, where the Monmouth will be paid off and recommissioned. The old crew of the Monmouth will work the Europa home.

Captain Brian H. F. Bartlett has been appointed to the command of the Monmouth on recommissioning. Captain Bartlett joined the service in December, 1882, was promoted lieutenant in 1889, a commander in 1901, and captain in December, 1906. He took four "firsts" at his examination, and was latterly captain of the gunnery school at Chatham. He served previously on the Station.

The following appointments have been made to the Admiralty:—Commanders—C. L. Lumb, to the Alacrity, and C. Seymour to the Tamar, additional, for the Otter, in command, to date February 8. Chaplains—The Rev. W. H. F. Ryan, to the Defence to date February 23; and the Rev. N. M. Livingstone to the Europa, for voyage out, to date March, and to the Monmouth, on recommissioning, undated. Surgeon—L. A. Moncrieff, to the Europa, for voyage out, to date March 5, and to the Monmouth, on recommissioning, undated.—"L. & O. Express."

GLASS-BOTTOMED BOATS.

For sometime past glass-bottomed launches have been used at various places on the Western and South-Eastern Coasts of the United States for the use of persons wishing to inspect the wonderful marine growths which flourish in these regions. The first boats designed for the purpose were owned at Avalon, Catalina Islands, off the coast of Southern California, and details are now given by the "Shipping Gazette" of a large launch which is reported to have been ordered by the Meteor Boat Company, of that port, from the San Pedro Marine Construction Company. The new glass-bottomed vessel is to be over 100 ft. long, and to possess two 100 horse-power, four-cylinder engines. These boats have so far been as immune from accident as ordinary launches. The glass bottom consists of a pane of glass of about an inch in thickness, and above this strip of glass, which runs along the keel-line of the boat, is a trough with its sides painted black, which acts as a species of screen for the benefit of those engaged in looking through the glass. Should the glass break the inrush of water can be stemmed by water-tight hatches, which are placed at the sides of the trough and can be automatically brought into use like the water-tight door on board a large vessel, so that the boats are virtually double-bottomed.

POUND FOOLISH.

While most of us would deny that we are in any sense of the words "penny wise," we should yet have to admit that we are, generally speaking, "pound foolish." We like to fling our gold about (when we have it) without troubling ourselves too much concerning how many pennies we have put by from week to week. This tendency to extravagance—or shall we call it princely generosity?—is indeed one of the questions of the day. How shall we check it? Of course, it may be argued that since we are now, all of us, eligible for, and, in fact, entitled to, an Old Age Pension, there is really no need to scrape and save as our luckless forefathers, who lived before the golden age of Lloyd Georgeism, had to do. And the argument is rather strengthened by the well-founded expectation that before we are much older the Old Age Pension, will have become a Young Age Pension and we shall all be living at the State's expense. Still, there's many a slip, as another proverb tells us, and it is just as well to be prepared for a sudden return to sanity on the part of English voters, and the consequent of Lloyd George and his followers to the wilderness for some thirty years. How then, to come to the point, shall we check this racial tendency to spend not wisely but too well? There is only one effective method. Let us form a gigantic "Anti-Spending Society." This Anti-Spending Society will make it bad form for anyone to spend anything, and once a thing is firmly established as bad form, that thing is dead. And now we are off to find a hard-up young member of the Very Smartest Set to become our first chairman.—The "Globe."

A FINANCIAL ROCKET.

Exit Mr. Hooley.

The London correspondent of the "N. O. Daily News" wrote on Feb. 10:—Ernest Torah Hooley, the sometime idol of fortune-hunters, the benefactor of St. Paul's Cathedral, whose gift of a service of gold plate was subsequently redeemed from its taint by a restoration of its value to the victims of his finance, was to-day, at the Central Criminal Court, sentenced by Mr. Justice Phillimore to twelve months' imprisonment in the second division for having obtained £2,000 from a young man named Tweedale by false pretences.

The sum mentioned in the charge represents but a small part of the plaintiff's losses in his transactions with Mr. Hooley; in fact his whole small fortune of some £10,000 seems to have gone. The case was, however, like all these financial cases, full of complications, and without adopting the view of Mr. Hooley's leading counsel, Mr. Tim Healy, K.C., M.P., that the accused was more sinned against than sinning, one finds it difficult to sympathize very deeply with Mr. Tweedale. That young gentleman seems to have entered into speculations involving liabilities far beyond his means in the hope of realizing huge profits. The one question for the jury was, however, whether Mr. Hooley contracted to sell an estate to Tweedale, and secured part of the purchase money by means of a false declaration that it was unencumbered. On that point the evidence seems to have been pretty clear; and the jury had no difficulty in deciding upon their verdict.

An interesting episode in the trial was when Hooley, in the witness box, described how Mr. Tweedale, when in temporary possession of the estate, sold off everything movable upon it, including Mr. Hooley's pedigree Jersey cattle, which, in apparent ignorance of their pedigree, went at an alarming sacrifice.

Another distinguished financier, Mr. Horatio Bottomley, has again been in the public eye this week; but although he has been in more than one transaction associated with Mr. Hooley, I would guard myself against being supposed to suggest that the methods of the two men were the same. The report of the Senior Official Receiver in bankruptcy upon the scheme by which Mr. Bottomley proposes to pay all his creditors in full has been issued within the past few days; and it will hardly prove altogether cheering to the creditors before whom it is to be placed. Mr. Hooley considers that the value which Mr. Bottomley places on his assets is extravagant and that his unsecured indebtedness is greatly understated, that there is comparatively little presently realisable value in the property which Bottomley proposes to invest in trustees; and that its future value is mainly a question of speculation or conjecture. Moreover, since the scheme was formulated, Mr. Bottomley has been ordered to pay nearly £30,000, together with seven years' interest at five per cent., to the liquidator of one of his companies on a misfeasance summons. The creditors are to meet and consider the scheme on St. Valentine's Day.

CONTEMPORARIES.

WHAT THEY THINK.

China Mail.

Realizing a Dream.

It was just after the close of the Russo-Japan war that the "China Mail" first advocated the establishment of an University for Hongkong. Like all pioneers we were at once laughed to scorn and practically told by many men of light and leading in the community that our aspirations on the subject were but the babbling of fools. The then head of Queen's College, Dr. Bateson
Wright, was particularly destructive in his criticisms, and he was by no means alone in the attitude of hostility assumed towards the project. We were, however, merely a little ahead of the times, that was all. A year or so rolled away and there came among us a Governor who quickly saw that the dry bones in the educational valley of Hongkong required requickening impulses if the rising youth of the Colony were to be rightly served. That impulse he supplied, and it is ancient history now how the interest in all matters educational which Sir Frederick Lugard displayed prompted the late Sir Hormusjee Modi to offer to defray the cost of building a stately pile wherein to house a proposed University if an endowment fund could be raised within a certain time. It was a tempting offer which the philanthropic and far-sighted Parsi gentleman made to the Governor, but even so it required much earnest consideration ere it could be accepted.

Daily Press.

The University.

With His Excellency we refuse to believe that the British race have come to be afraid of fair and honest competition or that we are so shortsighted as to think that our own interests may be prejudiced by leading the way in the development which is bound in any case to take place in China. His Excellency was fully warranted, in describing in his speech yesterday the opening of the University as an event of the greatest historical interest and importance in the annals of the Far East. We see no reason why the highest hopes of its founders should not be realised, and we are confident that, though Sir Frederick Lugard, to whose able advocacy and unflinching zeal the University owes its foundation, is leaving us before the institution is in full operation,
we can confidently rely on Sir Henry May, his successor in the Chancellorship, supported by the Court and Senate, to leave nothing undone to secure the fruition of the high hopes we must all cherish.

University of Hongkong.

To-day our columns are mono-polised by accounts of the proceedings connected with the University. Those of our readers who care to read up the details of the scheme will appreciate the vast amount of work which has fallen to the lot of His Excellency the Governor and how well he has performed it. Yesterday's ceremonial was indeed a fitting finale to His Excellency's strenuous term of office in the Colony. The proceedings witnessed as they were by so many of the leading residents of the Colony were stamped with the dignity due to such an epoch-making event, it is to be earnestly hoped that the years to come will realise the fondest hopes of the promoters and of the worthy old gentlemen whose name will be associated with the building as long as they endure.

HONGKONG, TUESDAY, MARCH 12, 1912.

THE FIELD OF EXPLORATION.

Pearly and Amundsen, while laying the world under a debt of obligation in one way have robbed it, looking at the matter in another light, of something that can never be regained. There are no Poles left to discover. As long as the extremities of the globe remained unvisited there existed a call to the adventurous to strive to attain the icy wreath that would deck the brow of the first to tread those frozen solitudes. It may be remarked in parenthesis, and the point is possibly of value as showing the divergent characters of the men, that Amundsen does not seem to have taken the precaution adopted by Peary of leaving his companions a day's march or so distant from the Pole, so that there could be no possibility of a member of the party other than the leader being first to reach the long sought spot. Amundsen, would appear, in the absence of testimony to the contrary, to have given the companions who shared his perils the privilege of participating in his triumph.

The great incentives of arctic and antarctic exploration have gone, though much remains to be done. There are various scientific problems in regard to the magnetic poles still to be solved, and vast tracts of the ice-bound zones remain unmapped. But, still, there will never again be the same strong public interest in these voyages of discovery as attended the recent expeditions. The world has lost a sensation. Heart of grace may be taken, however, by those who wish to distinguish themselves by doing something that has never been done before. There are many portions of the world's surface that have never been trodden by the foot of civilized man. Parts of the North-west of Australia are still clothed with the mystery of the unknown, and the hinterland of further India awaits its Livingstone or its Amundsen. The summit of Mount Everest has never been violated by the flag-staff of a patriotic pioneer, and Africa and South America still preserve their secret places.

It is, however, but a matter of time, and it would appear, a brief time, before the mysteries which remain are unveiled. New methods of preserving supplies, of defeating distance and of subduing space have rendered the task of the explorer increasingly easy. The day cannot be very far in the future when the men who are animated by the spirit which informed Stanley, and Franklin, and Shackleton and Scott, will sadly realize that, in their domain, it is even as said in Ecclesiastes: "There is nothing new under the sun." How will that spirit find its vent? Perhaps the answer is heavenward, in a material not a religious sense. When all that can be learned of this earth is known, it may be that the moon and Mars will become what the North and South Poles hitherto have been, the goals of ambitious desire. The suggestion may provoke a smile, but if we can cast our thoughts only fifty, nay twenty, years back we will realize that many things which would then have seemed the maddest of dreams are now commonplace. The vista of human knowledge and endeavour grows ever wider.

DAY BY DAY.

Action is not life, but a way of spoiling something.

To-day's Paper.

Woman's World and the coupon for the Photographic Competition will be found to-day on page 3. On page 8 appear Home football results.

Two women and a man were charged with cutting down trees on the hill side at Apichau and were each fined $5 at the Magistrate's court this morning.

H. M. S. Europa, with reliefs for H. M. S. Monmouth, left England on Sunday. The latter ship leaves Hongkong for Colombo on Friday next to pay off and re-commission.

Among the interesting finds on the person of a suspect, taken into custody by the police was a cylinder of wood, so wrapped in paper as to represent a roll of 20 cent pieces. The uses to which this was to be put is not quite clear as it was considerably lighter than the coins would be.

At the Magistrate's court this morning before Mr. E. A. Irving, a man who was charged with returning from banishment, was sentenced to six months' hard labour and four hours' stocks. He had been banished in 1909 and took it into his head to return before his time. He will be again deported on completion of his sentence.

The method of "cure" of confirmed laziness in Denmark is somewhat Spartan. Either the men must settle down to regular habits of work, chiefly of a rural character or the "rest cure" is pushed home to its logical result—they are forced to lie in bed for a term varying from a day to three or four days. By that time the ennui becomes simply unbearable, and the men are glad to escape from the torture of sheer inactivity.

City Hall.

No less than 7,010 Chinese visitors attended at the Museum during the week ended March 10. The non-Chinese visitors numbered 308. The library was visited by 168 Chinese, and 410 non-Chinese.

The Colony's Health.

The plague return for the week ended March 9 shows that there were twelve cases and twelve deaths. The small pox cases numbered fifty-five and in forty-three instances terminated fatally. Three British, one American and fifty-one Chinese comprised the sufferers.

Hongkong A. D. C.

Attention is directed to the forthcoming production by the Hongkong A.D.C. of "The Gondoliers." The first performance takes place on Thursday, March 21 and the opera will be repeated on March 22, 23, 25, 26 and 29. Booking at the Robinson Piano Co. opens on March 14.

Apprehension at Swatow.

A rumour reached Hongkong to-day of impending trouble at Swatow. According to this, the Janus, and the Whiting, have been ordered to Swatow and the forts there have been manned. Some 4,000 Chinese soldiers are concentrated on Swatow in expectation of a rising. Some Japanese gunboats were also expected. This rumour is borne out by our Canton correspondent.

A Famous Horticulturist.

Yesterday was the birthday of Luther Burbank, the wizard of horticulture, whose fame is world-wide and whose home is in Santa Rosa.

The day—Arbor day—is observed as a public holiday in California, in recognition of Mr. Burbank's great service to the State and nation. The honour is deserved for he certainly will take rank not only as a man of wonderful attainment, but one whose life work has been of great benefit to the human race. Mr. Burbank is on his way to the Philippines, where he is to study the horticulture of the Archipelago.

OUTBREAK AT CANTON.

Heavy Fighting.

A private letter from Canton, dated March 11, contains the following:—Only a line to let you know that the regular troops and pirates have been at it tooth and nail. Heavy fighting started the day before yesterday and has been going on practically ever since. Last night the firing was almost incessant and it is impossible to know how many have been killed.

The row started over the Government trying to disarm one of the pirate chiefs and his men. The old bandit had about 8,000 men in his crew, so I am told, so you can well understand that he is in a position to put up a stout resistance.

No attack on foreigners has occurred, but I have been told that the British officers are on duty all the time and fear is expressed on many sides that the Shamoon may experience trouble from the rabble of the city.

The fighting at this hour is not so severe. I have just returned from having a look at where a lot of it has been going on. The streets are practically deserted in the vicinity and the soldiers are hiding in the alley-ways, waiting for some of the enemy to come along. It is rumored to-day that the pirates have occupied the Bogue Forts on the Canton River and will fire on passing steamers. I doubt if this is true, but I do know that the British Consul has warned the Captains of English steamers that if they see any signs of trouble they are to return to Canton. The telegraph wires are all down so that advice can only be sent by mail.

A Peace Agreement.

Our Canton correspondent writes:—The disturbance between the troops of the modern army and the revolutionary soldiers under Commander Wong Wo-shun was practically over at 11 o'clock last night, through the intervention of the commanders of the different regiments and members of various societies. General Lung Chin-kwong is reported to have acted as mediator for the modern army and an agreement of peace is said to have been signed.

Renewed Fighting.

In the course of an interview with an official of the Kowloon-Canton Railway Company, to-day, in reference to the train robbery alleged to have taken place on the line yesterday, a "Telegraph" representative was informed that fighting was still taking place in Canton, and that great disorder obtained in the locality.

Commodore Leaves for Canton. Commodore Eyr left early this morning for Canton, in H.M.S. Taku.

H.M.S. Fame has also left for the same city.

Protecting Shipping.

Extraordinary precautions, it is stated, are now being taken in order to protect steamers running between Hongkong and Canton and River Ports. Ship-masters have been warned to exercise special care while approaching the Shamoon. H.M.S. Moorlien, has been patrolling the river, and it is thought in many quarters that it was only the presence of the torpedo boat that prevented an attack.

THE GOVERNOR.

Address from the Community.

We are requested to announce that the speech in connection with the address to be presented to His Excellency the Governor on his departure from the Colony, which are now lying at the principal Clubs and Kelly & Walsh's and Lane, Crawford's stores, will be collected for binding on Thursday next. Residents who have not yet signed should, therefore, take this last opportunity of doing so.

THE HARBOUR SENSATION.

STARLING DEVELOPMENT.

POLICE OFFICER'S SUICIDE.

The shooting affair on the S.S. Sai An, which occurred on Feb. 28, and in connection with which an enquiry was held this afternoon, has been made remarkable by a sensational development.

In the course of the enquiry the Coroner, Mr. E. A. Irving, asked as to the whereabouts of P. C. Attewell, who it is alleged, shot the deceased man, the subject of the inquiry.

The officer in question was not in court and the Coroner was informed by the police that Attewell was not in attendance, nor could he be found at No. 5 Station. It was remarked that he was not on duty this afternoon.

The coroner gave instructions for the officer to be sent for, and we are informed that his body was found at No. 5 Police Station, he having, so it is alleged, shot himself with a revolver.

It appears that the deceased officer was worried considerably over the shooting case, though he was seen this morning, and appeared to be in good spirits.

Further Details.

From later information received, the body of the deceased was found in a bath room at No. 5 Police Station.

Attewell was an officer of about 5 to 6 years' standing in the force, and bore an excellent character. Some of those who knew him well say that he was rather excitable, but exceedingly plucky, this latter trait earning him commendation on more than one occasion.

TO-DAY'S ENQUIRY.

This afternoon at the Magistrate's court Mr. E. A. Irving held an enquiry into the circumstances attending the death of Chan Cheung, who was shot in a scuffle on board the Sai An on February 28.

The following were on the jury: Messrs. John Manners, A. A. H. Milroy, J. W. C. Craig, Mr. Eldon Potter, who appeared on behalf of the wife of the deceased man, reminded his worship of what happened at the hearing of another case rising out of the incident, and asked to be allowed to mention a letter which he had received from the Magistrate's clerk which was to the effect that the Coroner had decided not to hear counsel on either side.

Mr. Potter said that at the last hearing he asked whether his Worship would follow the usual practice of the Court, and that was that counsel should examine and cross-examine. He did not know whether his Worship intended to depart from the practice of the Court on this occasion. He would ask him to follow the usual practice and hear counsel.

His Worship said that, as far as he could ascertain, it was the practice of the Court, not to hear counsel. There was no written procedure, but that was the course he proposed to adopt.

Mr. Potter:—Will you allow me to put questions through you to any witness called?

His Worship:—I don't think I am even prepared to go as far as that. You will have other opportunities if you wish to put questions to the witnesses.

Further argument ensued, but his Worship adhered to his decision.

Mr. Potter:—Will your Worship give any reason for your decision?

His Worship:—No.

And your Worship will depart from the usual procedure in the Court?

I will not answer that question. I have already stated that I will not hear you.

The incident closed with Mr. Potter asking that the request be noted.

A Chinese woman was the first witness called and she said that a Chinese constable came to her on board the Sai An and wanted to search her baggage, but she fearing her things would get mixed objected. P.S. Attewell was called by the constable and she explained her fear of getting things mixed, and offered to take each article out of her baggage to be inspected. The sergeant kicked the basket over and when she remonstrated, slapped her. Later on he drew a firearm and when people round commenced to speak about it he rushed towards the bystanders and dispersed them. Subsequently she and her husband left the boat and reported the matter to the police, complaining that she had been assaulted by the officer. She was not present when the shooting took place.

During witness's evidence it transpired that Sgt. Attewell was not attending the Court, and the Magistrate had him sent for. Medical evidence was given by Dr. Koo, who said that the deceased was admitted to the Government Civil Hospital, suffering from a bullet wound in the abdomen, a bullet wound in the fleshy part of the right buttock, these two being probably caused by one projectile. There was also a bullet wound on the inner side of the right thigh. His condition was very serious, an operation was performed and he found nine perforations in the small intestines. The man rallied a little but died on March 1.

Proceeding.

ALLEGED TRAIN HOLD-UP.

The Facts.

In consequence of a report that the afternoon train from Canton had been held up by robbers a representative of the "Telegraph" was commissioned to investigate the matter. He states that at Kowloon he made exhaustive enquiries from the officials concerning the allegation and received a complete denial that anything untoward happened to the train in question or any other train during the day. The train which arrived last night was only seven minutes behind the scheduled time, which is not particularly unpunctual. This statement was corroborated by the book containing the official record of the departure and arrival of all trains from and to Kowloon. The stationmaster says that no complaint was made to him by the train attendants, neither did any of the passengers complain of any inconvenience on route. He considers that had there been such an attack or delay he would certainly have been acquainted of it either by those employed on the train or by the officials along the line, by telegraph. As far as he knows the story is entirely without foundation. Europeans, he added, cannot be booked through, and the Company only undertake to book them to Sham Chun, the latest section of the line. No trains are allowed to run directly into Canton, and Tung Shan is the terminus. To this station Chinese may book, but the railway authorities do not guarantee conveyance into the city.

A curious incident is reported from Peterborough in connection with the frost. On January 30 a tradesman of the city named Mr. Richardson, was skating on one of the dykes in the neighbourhood, when he noticed through the clear surface of the ice a large pike, which shot off on the approach of the skater. As Mr. Richardson proceeded the fish darted forward continuing its flight for half a mile. It then suddenly stopped, and although the skater knocked the ice with a stick he was carrying the pike did not budge. The ice was broken, and the skater, placing his hands underneath the pike, threw it on to the adjoining bank. When brought into Peterborough it was found to weigh the scale at twelve pounds.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The Bazaar Takings.

The takings at the University Bazaar yesterday were disappointing. There is no other word for it. Drawings of less than $7,000 are much less than were expected and much less than the labours of the committee deserved. But we do not despair of hearing, later in the week that the takings have risen with a rush. That kind of thing happens quite often in the case of bazaars and we sincerely trust that it will be seen in Hongkong on this occasion.

Yesterday's Knighthood.

It is generally felt that the honour of knighthood conferred upon the Hon. Mr. Ho Kai, C.M.G., has been well earned. Apart altogether from the magnificent assistance he gave to the collection of funds for the University, Dr. Ho Kai has done well for the Colony. A barrister and a medical practitioner, he is a worthy son of the Colony. In the public life of Hongkong Dr. Ho Kai has always taken a prominent part, in the Legislative Council and elsewhere. He received the first sign of his sovereign's approval in 1902 when he was made a C.M.G. The higher distinction has been fairly won. It is an interesting point, by the way, how the style of the new knight should be spoken or written. Should it be Sir Ho Kai or Sir Kai Ho? Ho is, of course, the family name. It would seem anomalous to the Briton to speak of, say Sir Lipton Thomas. H. E. as Stylist.

Nearly all has been said concerning the University that need be said for some little time, though the bazaar will demand notice during the week. But occasion may be taken to refer back to the opening ceremony yesterday and to remark the fine literary quality of His Excellency's speech. We are referring now not to the splendid matter of the speech as to the manner, the style, the happy phrasing. A nice arrangement of words marks every one of the Governor's speeches. He has a fastidious taste for the word that exactly expresses the shade of meaning he wishes to convey and for a felicitous phrase. That is why his speeches read so well in print—the truest test of a speech. The fact may not be of any moment, but it was worth remarking at a time when Sir Frederick Lugard is preparing to leave the Colony and has made almost his last really public speech.

"Districting."

If Mr. Morgan Shuster had not otherwise been known to be an American, a term he used in a recent interview would have disclosed his nationality. He admitted that there were imperfections in the elective machinery of the Persian Mojles—in the "districting," for example. "Districting" is the technical American equivalent for our "constituencies," and "districting" accordingly means the division of the whole country into constituencies. This process is carried out in America afresh after every census, so a "redistricting"—practically what we should call a "redistribution of seats"—is now due. It is "districting" that gives an opportunity for the "gerrymander"—the trick played when the party that happens to be dominant in the State Legislature carves up the map into "districts" of such a shape that its opponents will be placed under a disadvantage. Congress allots to each State a certain number of seats in proportion to the population as shown by the census, and it is then the duty of the State Legislature to mark out the electoral areas. The usual practice is to divide the State into single-member districts, of approximately equal population. But much mischief may be done by a judicious grouping of seats.

THE UNIVERSITY BAZAAR.

Yesterday's Receipts.

The anticipations of the committee of the bazaar, do not seem to be in a fair way to realization if yesterday's takings are any criterion for towards the $100,000 that it was hoped to raise. The first day's takings only amounted to between six and seven thousand dollars. There are, however, at least two reasons for this small result. Persons who had not received tickets of invitation to the opening ceremony in the afternoon apparently were under the misapprehension that admission was only by invitation, while many who attended the opening left immediately afterward thinking their tickets did not admit to the bazaar, an idea that was equally fallacious. However, those that did stay appear to have spent their money liberally.

To-day's great event in connection with the bazaar is the banquet to be given in the great hall, at which H.E. the Governor will be present, with many others prominently connected with the undertaking. This is to be followed by a grand musical at which many of the principal amateurs of the Colony will appear. The programme is of special interest in that the Hon. Mr. Claud Severn, who occupied a prominent position in the musical world in Singapore makes his public debut in Hongkong, singing Stephen Adams' "Thora". The full programme is as follows:—

Part I:—Dedictory Ode, words by Mr. C. Clementi, music by Mr. Denman Fuller, sung by the choir of St. John's Cathedral and members of the Hongkong Philharmonic Society; Band of the 1st K.O.Y.L.I.; Double Quartet by Messrs. Martin and Harbo, Mrs. Perkins and Mr. H. T. Best, Mr. J. W. White, Mr. H. Peyton-Griffin, Mr. E. C. Emmott and Mr. C. R. Crispin; Song, "Thora," Stephen Adams, Mr. Claud Severn; Violin Solos, (a) "Meditation," Nassenot, (b) "Souvenir," Drida, Mr. R. Timmerschmidt; Song, "Because," Guy d'Hardelot, Mrs. Moulder; Part Song, (a) "Strange Adventure," Sullivan, (b) "Sweet and Low," Barnby, Madames Schofield and Perkins, Dr. Schofield, R.N., and Mr. D. J. Donno.

Part II:—Allegro Molto for piano and orchestra, Mr. Denman Fuller; Recitation, Mr. R. Sutherland; Vocal Duets (a) "Nocturne," Channatti, (b) "Snowdrops," Liza Lehmann, Dr. and Mrs. Schofield; Song, "Melisande in the Wood," Alma Gostz, Mrs. Stainer; Song, "Myself when Young," Liza Lehmann, Mr. H. I. Jones; At the Piano, Mr. Denman Fuller, Mr. D. J. Donno, Mr. Evan Ormiston and Mr. Gaylavvi.

To-night's Dinner. The following are the guests being entertained to dinner by His Excellency the Governor, at the University this evening:—Sir Paul Chater, Mr. Murray Stewart, Mr. C. C. Clementi, Mr. A. Bryer, the Hon. Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Pollock, Mrs. and Mr. Swire.

Congratulations from Tokyo. The following telegram was received at the opening ceremony of the Hongkong University from the University of Tokyo:—"University of Hongkong: Cordial congratulations: Hamano: President."

Shanghai Spring Meeting.

The programme for the Shanghai Spring Race Meeting of 1912 has been published and in some details differs from the programmes of previous Spring Meetings. Owing to the fact that few griffins can be obtained from the North, there are no races set apart for Subscription Griffins. On the first day, May 6, the Paper Hunters' Cup replaces the Subscription Griffins' Plate, and is open to all China ponies paper-hunted during the season 1911-12 that have not won a race prior to May 6 and have been through at least two Hunts. On the same day, in the Chihli Cup, formerly for Subscription Griffins, the conditions are similar, but winners of Paper Hunt Cups are barred.

On the second day, the conditions of the Mongolian Plate are similar, except with regard to allowances, to those of the Paper Hunters' Cup; the Club Concorde Cup (1-14 miles), for bona fide griffins, replaces the Grand Stand Stakes of previous Spring Meetings, and the Peking Stakes is confined to ponies that have been paper-hunted in 1911-12 and been through two Hunts.

On the third day, the Shantung Stakes is reserved for ponies paper-hunted in 1911-12 that have started at the Meeting, and the Nil Despondendum Cup is open to griffins of the Meeting that have run and not won a race.

Paris is now in direct telephonic communication with Madrid, 1,000 miles away.

The English author who is most read in Russia next to Shakespeare is Jerome K. Jerome.

Covering a period of five years, 78,235 "home savings banks" have been opened in Manchester, showing average individual deposits of £1.16 and a total of £137,228.
